

BIOGRAPHY ROXANA PLESOIANU

A highly skilled professional in intercultural mediation who ensures full commitment to the task at hand. Fluent in six European languages and an academic background in Techniques of Interlinguistic Mediation at the University of Genoa, Roxana starts her career as a freelance translator & interpreter.

A wealth of diverse skills taken from different backgrounds, after working and studying in St. Petersburg, Madrid, Tallinn and Paris, she returns to Genoa where she works as a translator and a cultural event organiser.

Since 2017, Roxana collaborates with SOS Europe Srl where she interacts with a wide range of key players and stakeholders in the field of cancer and gains extensive experience in international organisation management.

Currently, the scope of her work is to foster collaborations with Cancer Institutes, organisations, policymakers and industry and coordinate international partnerships & projects.