

Biosketch Golbahar PAHLAVAN, PhD, MBA

Golbahar Pahlavan has worked for over 15 years in biomedical research, management and policy-making in both public and private sectors across the Research, Development & Innovation value chain. She has led international programs spanning capacity building in research and public health, clinical research, as well as biotechnology and bioentrepreneurship. She has held senior positions at European Research Infrastructure as well as research organisations such as Institut Pasteur, Institut Curie in France and ISGlobal and the Barcelona Science Park in Spain. Golbahar holds a PhD in Life Sciences from Université Paris 7, Paris, France, an MBA from Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona, Spain and a Master in International Negotiation and Policy Making from the Graduate Institute, Geneva, Switzerland.