

Prof. Alessandro Sgambato's short biography

Alessandro Sgambato graduated, summa cum laude, from the University of Naples and during his post-doctoral period he obtained the Specialization in Oncology and the Research Doctorate (Ph.D.) in Oncology from the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, Rome, Italy.

From 2015, he is Full Professor of General Patology - School of Medicine "Agostino Gemelli" - Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, Rome, Italy and currently holds the role of Deputy Dean.

From 2019 to the end of 2022, he was also Scientific Director at the Centro di Riferimento Oncologico della Basilicata (IRCCS-CROB), Rionero in Vulture (Potenza), Italy.

His scientific interest has been devoted from the beginning to the molecular mechanisms underlying malignant cell transformation helping to understand the role(s) of several molecules in the regulation of tumor cells proliferation and spreading.

To date he has published more than 200 scientific articles on peer reviewed international cancer journals.